"I LIVE IN VOLGOGRAD."

My foreign friends so like to ask:
"What is your name? Where do you live?"
It's really not so easy task,
But I'll try to say in brief.

When answering these usual questions
Imagine, what a pride I feel!
I live in Volgograd, on the Volga,
My name is Volga Mikhail!

My forefathers through the centuries
Each day here met the dawn,
How glories is the history
Of place where I was born!

We always remember the days
Of the Great Patriotic War.
What trouble did people face!
To the future they opened the door...

My grandmother used to tell
How great grandfather served in the tank.
In the days of war horror and hell
He defended the river's bank.

After trouble new era came,
From the ruins grew squares and streets.
Labour heroes some people became,
"Volga" name in the lists you could meet.

My city in the 70's looked new,
Was green and great,
My grandpa and my granny
Could this evaluate.

They didn't make a revolution,
May be, they didn't make career.
They made the greatest contribution
As doctor and as engineer.

When my mother and father grew up
The city staggered your imagination.
Being big point in the map,
It was the centre of culture and education.

They are making for the city a lot
Teaching students and working with law.
I'm surprised how much patience they've got,
They're still young and will do more and more.

I wish people's efforts were mutual
To continue my forefathers' deeds!
It's ME who will build the FUTURE
Who will do what my city needs!
